

Barbara Wallace Foxwell

December 11, 1946 - April 28, 2024

Barbara Wallace Foxwell was born on December 11, 1946 in Washington, DC. She was the daughter of the late Kermit Wallace and the late Olive Irene DeMarr Wallace Smith, and the stepdaughter of the late George Smith. In addition to her parents, she was predeceased by her younger brothers, John Kermit Wallace, Thomas Oliver Wallace, Kermit Wallace, Jr., and Charles Samuel Wallace. Barbara was the cherished wife of John William Foxwell, beloved mother of Karen Foxwell Chapin (Kenneth Chapin), and Barbara Beere Bittorie (John Bittorie). In addition to her husband and children, Barbara was survived by her amazing grandchildren, John Wallace Foxwell, Cheyann Chapin (Craig Carre), Raven Chapin, Alexandra Gerben, Olivia Chapin, Shane Beere, Elizabeth Chapin, John Bittorie, Jr. and Kathryn Chapin, and her precious Great Grandchildren Canon Carre, Alannah Gerben and Chloe Gerben.

Barbara was best known for her love of family and friends, her passion for digging in the garden and her obsession with yard sales and antiques. Her best memories consisted of traveling with her adoring husband to places far and near and conquering the longest Yard Sale with her dear friend and partner in crime, Debbie Buttry. Anyone who truly knew Barbara, knew it was important to be prepared for anything when she asked "So, what are you doing next Saturday?". Barbara's love for a good adventure usually led to an amazing story for the next family gathering.

Barbara's beautiful life will be celebrated at 11:00 AM on Saturday, May 11, 2024 at St. Barnabas Episcopal Church, 13135 Forsythe Road, in Sykesville, MD 21784.
