

Brad Leroy Scull

January 20, 1979 - October 2, 2025

Brad was born January 20, 1979 to Marvin and Joyce Scull. He spent his childhood playing baseball, basketball, bowling, playing video games and hanging out with his cousins and friends.

Brad did not have an easy life, dealing with addiction within his family and personally from a very young age. He had a giant heart, and genuinely loved his family. Unfortunately, Brad lost his battle with his mind and tragically took his own life in the home he spent his whole life in. Hopefully, he's found the peace he's needed for so long.

He is preceded in death by his loving mother Joyce, and his older brother Robert Phillip Castle, III, his maternal and paternal grandparents, uncles and several beloved cousins. He leaves behind his loving father Marvin, nephew Robert Phillip Castle, IV, of whom he was so proud, his aunt and Godmother Lee (and David) Turner, and aunts Lorraine Maus, Barbara Simmons, and Regina (and Leonard) Callis. He also leaves his many cousins, and friends to carry on without his light in this world.

If anyone is having thoughts of harming themselves please reach out to someone or call 988 to reach the Suicide and Crisis Hotline.

Tribute Wall

BC

“ This broke my heart. I lived with Brad and mr.marv for years and never would I have thought he would leave us in manner as tough as he was. This hurts me but I'm trying to celebrate good times. He was 1 of my best friends and will be missed. Love u Brad I'm sure you feel better now and i can't wait until we meet up again. Love Bridget Conte

Bridget M Conte - October 20, 2025 at 01:47 PM

TP

“ Tabitha Parks lit a candle in memory of Brad Scull

Tabitha Parks - October 13, 2025 at 05:30 PM

TP

“ Brad was born January 20, 1979 to Marvin and Joyce Scull. He spent his childhood playing baseball, basketball, bowling, playing video games and hanging out with his cousins and friends.

Brad did not have an easy life, dealing with addiction within his family and personally from a very young age. He had a giant heart, and genuinely loved his family. Unfortunately, Brad lost his battle with his mind and tragically took his own life in the home he spent his whole life in. Hopefully, he's found the peace he's needed for so long.

He is preceded in death by his loving mother Joyce, and his older brother Robert Phillip Castle, III, his maternal and paternal grandparents, uncles and several beloved cousins. He leaves behind his loving father Marvin, nephew Robert Phillip Castle, IV, of whom he was so proud, his aunt and Godmother Lee (and David) Turner, and aunts Lorraine Maus, Barbara Simmons, and Regina (and Leonard) Callis. He also leaves his many cousins, and friends to carry on without his light in this world.

If anyone is having thoughts of harming themselves please reach out to someone or call 988 to reach the Suicide and Crisis Hotline.

Tabitha Parks - October 08, 2025 at 06:20 PM