“ On Nov. 4, 1957 the best human being I have ever known was born, Candy Green. She left behind so many loved ones. The light of her life was her son Brent D. Taylor. I had the pleasure of knowing her for over 40 years. If my tears could bring her back...she would never had left, but God knows best. May the ancestors accept you with love knowing your heart and your faith. May you walk with God. Until we meet again....I will love you until the end of time....and then start loving you all over again.

“ My condolence goes out to Candy's son and family members. You are in my prayers. Candy and I worked side by side in the Business, Science and Technology Department at the Enoch Pratt Free Library. We would talk about family gathering during the holidays. She would spend time with her son and sister and family. Candy was a sweet person to know. Of course Christmas time was one of her favorites, because she loved baking all kinds of cookies for family and friends. We exchange gifts at birthdays and Christmas time. Last year she give me an electric heater and fan combination. I shared pictures of my family with Candy. She would always ask how was my mother and sister were during, since both of them had health issues that I needed to deal with. She will truly be missed. This news when I received it on that morning was shocking. Family keep your hands in God's hand.
