“ My Dear Sweet Angel Doug, My loving soulmate. I am still in shock and denial that you've been gone for 6 weeks already. I wont and cant go in our room anymore. Anytime I go in to get something and I dont see your face always smiling, it is hurting like hell. You promised we would grow old together sitting next to each other in rocking chairs talking about the old days. You promised me that!! Why did you leave me honey, why? You know how I adored, loved and needed you by my side. I always told you that I knew I would leave this life before you but you left me.. Sweet Jesus I cant take losing you sweetheart. I loved and needed you! This house is now so quiet and feels hollow. I see your guitar and all of the beautiful cards, letters and poems you wrote for me. I have no more fight left in me,,,I love you Doug. You had a beautiful heart and soul that I loved so much and I want everyone to know how very special you were... you're forever in my heart and soul... and this pain is tearing me apart!!! Im grateful that the last words we said to one another was \"I love you babe\" tears..... such a special loving good man you were. please come back babe, I need you so much!!! Your legacy will forever go on. The great big heart of yours, your always there to help anyone and give them the shirt off of your back. You wanted to do something that helped others so badly. You were so loving, giving, kind, funny, generous and your soul shined right through you. You were AMAZING, and I will forever speak your name and how special you were to everyone. You left a special mark in your life. There is NOTHING negative that could ever be said about you. You were my Earth Angel, like I always told you and now you are God's Angel with your beloved Mom and Dad. I can see you now, in Heaven, playing your guitar and singing away like you always loved to do. That was your passion. I miss how you would play the good old songs and we would just sing away together. I miss that. We talked about getting married in September and it never came, Sweet Jesus, please take care of my Dougie. He is one of the most special man. Doug was a simple man who never asked for much, but wanted to reach out and help others and thats who I fell in love with. Fly high honey. You are no longer in pain and set free from this cruel world. Sometimes I sit and I think, that you were too good for this world, so God put you in a better place. But how I miss you so. You are and forever will be in the pocket of my heart. Rest in Heavenly Paradise honey. I'll see you again one day. I love and miss you forever. My heart is in a million pieces. My Deepest Sympathy to Debbie and Joe, who he loved dearly. God bless you, you're in my prayers. Love, Lisa

“ Oh how my heart breaks. Such a great influence to me, and I was so lucky to have him as part of my life. He will be missed by many many people. He had such musical talent... and spread that beautiful gift around like it was glitter....always leaving a little piece of him wherever he would go. I just wish I could have seen him more recently. We love you Dougie... Jessica Christopher (Jenkins)

“ I had a major crush on you for about a year... just like most girls did. Not only were you good looking on the surface, but you had such a good heart. A really decent person. I was shocked to hear the news. Fly high with the angels. Until we meet again.

“ Too many memories to share in our 35 years of friendship. Our spur of the moment road trip that started as a ride to Charlottesville turned into a ride to NYC. We stayed at Marriott at Times Square on the 32nd floor. Hung out with the piano player in the lounge that night. Had a bunch of people singing and laughing along as we pushed the piano guy into songs all night. Next morning we came back down the shoreline, stopped at Dover, won a $50 jackpot on slots and came back home. Totally unplanned, spontaneous trips. One of the most enjoyable trips I've taken. I love you like a brother Dougie. You reminded me of how fast we can leave this earthly existence. You left a void I can't fill. I'll certainly meet you in the kingdom. I couldn't have had a better friend.
