“ My brother, we went back further than most. You were one of the first 3 friends I ever had. I'll never forget all the times we got into scuffles, shot BB guns at each other, rode your three wheeler and building all the forts back in the woods with the lumber we would snag from the local sites. I'll always remember the mischief we got into as we grew older. We always ran into each other in some of the craziest times. No matter what I'll always remember that spirit of not taking crap from anyone that you had. One thing is for sure you were always all in, there wasn't any half way about you. I think that's what I loved about you the most. I always knew that you were genuine and real. I'm honored to have had the privilege of walking in this life with you bro. You are loved and will be missed greatly! Rest easy bro!
