“ You fought a hard fight Momma, never wanting to give up. Your will, determination, and independence has carried on to Sherry. You always asked me if you were too much for her. Never! I think you already knew that though. She's as tough as you! I'll miss our talks, seeing you and making you smile! :) But, its not goodbye, its just see you another time. As far as I'm concerned anyway... I love you always! xoxo
