

Eloise V. Via

July 18, 1924 - April 14, 2018

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

“ Eloise V. Via ”

Funeral Home Owner - December 12, 2019 at 11:21 AM

JB

“ In this life we cross paths with many. Some we come to know intimately, some casually, some fleetingly - each offering some degree of insight or influence. How fortunate for those of us in this lifetime whose paths merged with Eloise 'Weetze' Via. Ms. Weetze was a woman I came to respect and adore. I deemed her 'Fleagle Road's belle of southern hospitality'. I was always comfortable in her presence. In typical southern fashion, her house was immaculate, she ALWAYS wore a smile, and when she spoke, I couldn't help but respond with a grin, for her speech clearly conveyed pure, friendly southern comfort (more akin to a 'quick shot' rather than 'slow sip', though). Her propensity to speak rapid-fire, as opposed to a traditional slow southern drawl was strangely endearing - perhaps a characteristic closely related to her high energy and quick wit. In the four plus decades that our family has known her, without fail, each of us have always felt warmly welcomed in her home. Whether a holiday visit or any old day of the week drop-by, Ms. Weetze was always congenial and happy to share time with guests... especially the 'littlest ones' - a passion of hers to the end. She was a lady of strong convictions. Her positive attitude was contagious; her faith, devout; her interest and interaction with others, genuine. But of all of the admirable traits she possessed, the ONE I truly envied was her overall 'feistiness'. To me, she presented as a little 'spitfire' - determined, energetic, kind, but never afraid to tell it like it is. (Oh how I aspire to that latter indomitable trait!) We mourn her passing, but give pause to celebrate The Life of Eloise 'Weetze' Via. Oh Lord, we offer thanks for the gift of her love and fellowship. We ask that You grant her an eternal place in Your home and in the presence of all those whom she has loved and have passed before her. We pray for her restoration and eternal peace. For friends and family left in this earthly realm, we ask for Your mercy, guidance, grace, and compassionate spirit to lift their souls and temper their grief. - In YOUR name we pray, Amen. 'The Lord's pillow is the softest pillow on which to rest...' Jan, Dale Brice and Family

Jan J. Brice - April 25, 2018 at 10:30 AM