“ I thought of you today—for all you gave to the world, and all you gave to me. Thank you, my friend. You are deeply missed and forever loved. I wish you were here to see who I’ve become. I carry your wisdom, your kindness, and your unwavering support with me every day. I still tell people about the man who saved my life—and I will be forever grateful. Some people never truly leave you... and you are one of them to me.
