“ Gary, I know you are in a better place now and the battle is over. I did not find out that you were on life support until right before your passing and I am sorry I could not be by your side. Say hi to everyone up there and I will see you again one day, hopefully not too soon though, I am glad I was able to spend time with you when my wife became quadriplegic. You were one of the few family members that came and visited her when she was in Franklin Square hospital and I will never forget everything you have done for me. Until we meet again cuz, until we meet again...❤️
