“ I worked briefly with Gianna at DoD. She was an incredible light even in the midst of her illness.

“ I worked closely with Gianna at the DoD and stayed in touch after she left. She was an extraordinary person with a keen mind for the issues that really matter. She led the creation of a roadmap for building industrial cooperation with international allies, and her life literally shaped issues of war and peace.

She was also a light. She brought positivity and smiles to serious projects that made her a pleasure to work with. (One time at the Swedish Embassy, we attended a party and laughed hysterically about how much we love Costco party supplies, which have make "top shelf lifestyles available at bottom shelf prices."

I am truly sorry for your loss. Please know that your family has been in my thoughts, and if I can ever help or support in any way, please don't hesitate to let me know. -Jesse Salazar

“ I worked closely with Gianna at the DoD a few years ago. It was when she was at Bytecubed. She was amazing. We worked hard, but we had fun, and we were a great team. She loved her family. I was so happy when she got that government job she had wanted. I work in the same area, so I thought we would meet again eventually. Director Gianna! I am glad I knew her, but I miss her very much.
