“ I am very sad to learn that Harry Konzcos has succumbed to a lengthy illness. Harry was one of the good guys, I never knew anyone that worked harder or was more dedicated. One of the greatest honors I ever had as a leader was presenting Harry with a 30 year service award. Due to limited resources and his high standards Harry would work close to 100 hours (not an exaggeration, he really did) the week of Black Friday so that his store would be ready for Christmas shoppers. He was exceptionally kind, incredibly intelligent, and had a wonderful sense of humor. Harry thank you for always inspiring me to be a better, kinder human. You are very missed. Rest easy my friend.

“ I spent many years shopping at FYE and knowing of Harry before officially working there in August of 2014. And the last five years have been the craziest, hardest, and most fun years of my life at that job. And what made it all worth it was working with Harry. He was genuinely the best boss I will ever have. And I'm so thankful and grateful for everything he's taught me (both job and in life). I'm so grateful to have been promoted to second assistant and then senior assistant, and to be working side by side with him. My boss turned dear, or might I even say best, friend. I promise to keep your store beautiful, and run it the way you'd want it to be. I will miss you so much, I already am. Your whole 1553 team, both past and present, are missing you so much. Rest peacefully 💜
