“ I first met Irene in 2009, when meeting my new husband, Johnny's(Jim's), family. Right from the first, she made me feel so welcome and our friendship grew with each passing year. We would call each other, with her talking to her brother for a few minutes, then she and I would have many nice long chats. I remember how she loved her baseball team (Baltimore Orioles) and her football team (Baltimore Ravens). She knew every player, and knew many stats! These things will stay in the front of my memory bank forever! We love you Irene, and I am blessed for knowing you and honored to call you \"sister\". Johnny and I will miss you.
