“ Jayne France Dickinson (1954-2024)\n\nStrong will, brilliant, driven, loving, sentimental, creative and kind.\n\nOn March 29, 2024, Jayne France Dickinson of Cambridge, MD quietly passed in the early hours of the day in Baltimore, MD. Jayne had battled with chronic illness for the last 10 years and in that time bridged and grew relationships with loved ones across the country. She will be dearly missed by her family, friends, and community with which she was an active participant. Be it knitting, technology, sailing, skiing, drawing, she would voraciously research and grow her knowledge to participate at the highest level.\n\nJayne was born on New Year's Eve 1954 in Kew Garden, New York to the late Christiane (Bétheuil) and William Wallace Dickinson III. She was born 2 years and 1 day after her older sister, Beatrice (Dickinson) Perry of Scottsdale, Arizona. Jayne received both Bachelor's of Science in Biology and Computer Science from George Mason University. Jayne was married in 1972 to Byron Johnson and had 3 children together, her children were her proudest accomplishment. Later in life, Jayne married Don W Dickson of Carefree, AZ who preceded her in death.\n\nHer mother, being a French citizen raised her in France after the passing of her father in 1960. Jayne's French heritage was a large part of her life. She was very close with her cousins in France and all over the world and talked to them frequently.\n\nJayne was a groundbreaker in the field of computer science. She worked in a wide variety of specialties, she excelled at developing new technologies that we use every day. She helped develop the internet working on DARPA projects and ATM switching. She worked in satellite technology and excelled at interferometry. She had several patents to her name over the course of her career and helped develop the NFL downline and streaming advertising. She was working on driverless car technology in her last role at Verizon. She loved the challenge of creating something new and excelled at discovering the unknown.\n\nJayne is survived by her 3 children, Monique Morrow and her husband Chris; Wesley and his wife Laura; and Douglas Johnson and his wife Caitlyn Macy-Beckwith.. Her beloved grand children, Abigail, Liam and Asher Johnson and Moby Morrow. Her sister Beatrice Perry and brother-in-law Garland Perry, her niece Nicole Lundstrom and nephew John Perry. \n\nA celebration of life will be held at a future date, in lieu of flowers a donation in Jayne's name can be made to Midshore Meals till Monday in Cambridge, MD.
