“ Tomorrow will be 9 months since you've been gone. And there hasn't been a second that i havent thought about or missed you like crazy. My life will never be the same again. A part of my heart is forever gone. I'm still not sure if it has hit me all the way yet. When i really Think about it I'm at loss for words. I cant Ever thank you enough for the life lessons you taught me and for loving me more than anything in this world. I truly Know how it feels to be loved and i forever Thank you for that. I really Really can't wait to see you again. Stay with me forever. I love You dad !
