“ This isn't a condolence. I should be getting the condolences if were being real. But I just miss my pop & it's been over 4 years with out him. I don't know how I did it since he basically raised me for the first 12 years of my life. Still crazy for me to believe he's actually gone. Just saying that I love & miss him & it hurts my heart he doesn't have an obituary written for him by one of his sons. None of my business though I guess.
