

Jonathan Dane von Breton

January 29, 1953 - September 10, 2020

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

MD

“ Sadly missed.

Mary Darby - July 26, 2021 at 09:21 PM

HS

“ I hiked Mount Major today and it would be been a day I would have called Jonathan to share about it. I don't have lots of pictures of anyone. I don't hang onto many things. I will always hang onto my memories of dear Jonathan (it took me a long time to stop calling him Jock, but he did not like it, and I learned). Jonathan was a wonderful listener. We talked about our opposite sides of the God spectrum (I am a Christian and he was an atheist). He knew me longer than anyone other than my brother, and he knew me well. I like to think I knew him well too. I feel so blessed to have known him. I will miss him so much and already do.

Heidi Savage - September 18, 2020 at 06:39 PM