“ There are no proper words to share the grief of loosing your parent. My father Joe, was a proud father of one son Paul Amedeo who preceeded him in death, and 4 daughters, myself, Roni, RuthAnne, and Amy. When Joe was blessed to marry Michele he became a father to Angelina. My father adored all of his 4 grandsons and came to any sporting event, birthday, that he could attend countless soccer tournaments, or wrestling state finials. No matter the situation Joe always put family first. I am beyond blessed to have had him in my life for the past 43 years of my life. The absolute light of his eyes came from Rocco his only great grandchild and the namesake of his beloved brother. Although the passing of my father was unexpected he lived his 69 years his way and to the fullest, his mind is at ease now and he is reunited with those whom he has deeply missed for many years. Rest easy my daddy you forever will live in our hearts I will always be your #1 daughter and the boys will carry on our Amedeo name we got it from here.

“ I met Joe in the early 90's when we both worked at a Food Distribution Center. We would hang out \“talking shop\” and Joe always had me laughing, especially when he \“covered\” for me when I was hiding from my boss Larry. Joe would answer the phone and say, \“No Larry, I haven't seen her all morning.\” Meanwhile, I would be standing right there cracking up. Joe always had my back. I had the good fortune to meet his Mother, \“The Mini Guinea\” and play cards with her and Joe's brother Rocco. I had a hand in arranging for Joe and Michele (Fedchak) Amedeo's meeting. We were all supposed to go out to dinner as \“just friends\”, but once they met that night, you couldn't get a word in edgewise. They hit it off instantly and I was honored to speak at their Wedding. Joe also adopted Michele's daughter, Angelina as his own. Joe and I had many good times: Trading stories as we shared glasses of wine, drinking Tequila shots, Dinners at Casa Amedeo, Birthdays, Weddings, Anniversaries, sports watching, our mutual affection for animals, his love of the Chicago Bears (\“Da Bears\”), and our passion for horse racing. He taught this girl all about the horse racing industry. Joe was especially proud of his Grandchildren and the birth of his first Great-Grandchild. It is such a comfort to have these wonderful memories of good times and laughter with him as it will help me grieve his loss. R.I.P. \“Big Poppa\” until we meet again. P.S. Also that man made The Best Cosmopolitans. Salute my dear friend.
