“ Justin is my little cousin. He never ever deserved the life he had to endure. I wish Heaven wasn't so far away so I could see him and our grandmother again. It hurts to know that another one of my family has to be gone. But I know he's doing things that he couldn't down here. Yes our pains grow without him here but he's now finally free and out of the pain and misery he was in. He was stronger than anyone I know not giving up til recently. Justin please tell grandmother that I love and miss her as I love and miss you. Xxoo
