“ One year and I still miss my sister. No body could ever replace her. She had issues but she has a heart. I love you Karen and will meet you in heaven one day. My hair will stay long for you....just for you. Love your sister Wendy

“ This is a funny story about Karen, Melissa and I. We went to the Natural Bridge in Virginia and visited a Tiny Safari. Well none of us did this before but we sure did find out what a mess it can become. Karen sat in the front seat and Lissa in the back. My car was a small Hyundai. We were not in it but 200 feet when Karen wined down her window to feed the Ostrich with the food they gave her to feed them with. She was very excited and Lissa could not believe it when the Ostrich poked his head in the car and pounded in her food bowl. The food went everywhere and Karen freaked out and sat on my shifter yelling move the car move the car Wendy. Lissa of course was laughing and I am telling Karen to get of the shifter. Then ewes were in front of the car and a huge camel came to my window and slobbered all over me. The food was embedded in the car and never did come out. We made it throught but oh how funny it was. This story we could have won 10,000.00 dollars from Americas Funny Home Videos. We went through a second time with our windows up and not stopping for nothing. I will never forget this. \r\n Wendy

“ My Sister I am so sorry you had to have such a hard life. You were such a beautiful person and you loved people unconditionally. You were there for me at all times if I needed someone to talk to. I know I lived far and could not drive my way but I knew you would if you could. My Sister, you loved me and cared so much about me. I love you with all my heart and soul. Thank you for never judging me and caring enough just to listen. My Soul aches knowing how much I will miss you. I pray you are in a better place and spending time with the lord. Your Loving Sister Wendy
