

Kate Mason

November 24, 1971 - May 18, 2015

No obituary found for this tribute.

Tribute Wall

GL

“Kat, I will always remember you as that enthusiastic sixth grader who always wanted me to read your manuscripts. You would continue to visit even in high school and after. You realized your dream even then. We would always talk about Anne Rice and the vampire Lestat. Her writings influenced yours back then. Even as an adult you had that spunk and excitement for writing. You had such a zest for writing and life that was contagious. How I appreciated your book that you sent me. You will always be one of my kids. Rest in peace, Kat.

Greg Lubert - May 27, 2015 at 07:57 PM

WS

“Kate, you earned your wings, fly high precious angel. You are loved and missed sis!

Wanda Sellers - May 24, 2015 at 09:43 PM

SH

“Kate Mason..... what words can be said. You took the world by storm (maybe created a few too). You touched so many lives in the short time we were blessed to have you with us. A wonderful friend, mother, and sister to those who knew you well. I miss you Kat, more than words can say.

Sue Hanson - May 24, 2015 at 04:56 PM