“ I love you, Kevan. I cannot believe that you are gone. I miss you so much. I want to pick up the phone and call you all the time and just talk and laugh for hours like we used to. I want to go on road trips with you again. I want to go out with you and your kids on special outings every summer when I visit. I can't believe I will never hear your voice, see your face, laugh with you again. I'm so devastated by your loss. You were my brother and best friend. I love you so much and miss you beyond belief. I know you are watching over us and that you are at peace. I'm so glad you are finally able to be at peace. That is something you were desperately searching for but you were not able to attain in this life. I love and miss you so much and so look forward to the day we are together again.
