“ My condolences to Tiana, Serena, Liberty's grandchildren, greatgrand-children, siblings, other family members and friends. I will dearly miss Liberty. However, I have so many wonderful memories of the times we shared through our some of our happiest highs as well as our sad and difficult lows. Like our car rides in DC to get away from the children to talk, cry or laugh about our lives. Or packing up both our households and children to move to Indiana for a new start in life. Or our endless talk about God- Yashua, scripture, the Bible, life, death and salvation without prejudice to our religious background. Or our ping-pong nights or days just holding on the phone with each other for comfort, talk or while the other slept. \n\nWhile I definitely can go on and on, but there are not enough words nor enough space here, for we already expressed our gratitudes, appreciations and disappointments to each other through the span of our close to 40 year journey. I am happy we met. Thank you. And it looks like you left here having things your way. :-)\nLOL\nSincerely, \nKim(Kimbus)-KindnotesofKhymms

“ As I sit here trying to think of a worthy message to sum up the life of such an amazing woman I find that there just haven't been words created to describe such a huge force of nature. Mommy I will miss you and carry with me all the lessons that you have taught me. Your voice is ever in my head and I will hold you to your declaration of always being with me even though I can't see, touch, or hear you. Be at peace now and may your name reflect your newfound freedom and may it echo through all eternity. I love you
