“ Hey Linda. I can't believe I'm writing a message in your memorial book instead of telling you this in person. I'm finally in my last week of class for my Peer Recovery Coach certification and you have everything to do with it. You are the one who told me I could do it and pointed me in the right direction and I will forever be grateful for that. Thank you for being such an inspiration to me and countless others! I know you will be with me when I take that final test! Rest in Perfect Peace my friend. \n

“ Mommy...you taught me that I AM good. You showed me color don't breed love and blood isn't what makes you family. I love you and I will always cherish the days I had, conversations we engaged, and the love you gave. I could never repay you...and your personality would never had let me even try. Thank You Ma!

“ Linda was so vibrant, so funny & we all adored her. It was a joy to be her Grand-sponsor for many years, or “Pooh Bah” as she called me, & after that it was my pleasure that we remained friends. She could light up a sponsorship gathering as soon as she walked in. It was like love that just poured out of her. She spoke truth, even if it was tough, but she backed it with a big hug. She did everything with gusto. To her dear daughter & family, & to her close friends: my heart goes out to you. We all have decades of memories to cherish.
\n\nBlessings,\n\nHelene\n\n“Pooh Bah”

“ When you have known someone your entire life the amount of memories can not be summed up in a few words. I love you and will miss you. I promise to watch over my mother like you would want me to. My heart breaks for the kids and all of your friends. Life will definitely be different without you in it. Those who know, know I mean this when I say....you never have to wear pants or a bra again! Love you Linda!!

“ I have many fond memories of Linda. My favorite was always just hugging her. She exuded warmness, kindness and pure joy. I can remember very early on meeting her for the first time and someone said she looked scary. Nothing could be further from the truth. She welcomed everyone, even people she didn’t really like. She was one of the strongest women I have ever known and I will miss her greatly. She lived and breathed for her family and any recovering addict. I love you Linda and I miss you. \n\nMy love and condolences to her son, daughter and her joy Lik Pook

“ I love you mommy. You were my mother by chance and my best friend by choice. I can only hope that I did you proud, and will continue to do so in every step that I take. I hope that I made all the right decisions that you left me to make. I promise that I will keep an eye on JJ and do my best to keep him safe. I'm not OK but I promise I will be OK. I will raise Alex to be the best woman just like her mommom that she adored so much. We miss you mommy and things will never be the same without you.
Love always, your baby girl, KK
