“ I first met Nick's mom, Erica as a client at a cosmetology school getting a service from her. Little did I know that her funny, active little boy would have his pick of wonderful and adventurous hair colors and styles, which he adored. I also didn't know at the time that we would be, one day, related by marriage and that he would be my great-nephew's best man and best friend. Ozzy's wedding was the last time I saw and spoke to Nick. How dapper he looked in his tuxedo standing at the altar with Oz. I shall always remember a bright, rambunctious young man, eager to have adventures and excitement and always ready for his next tattoo. He loved his family and shall be missed by so many. Rest in the loving and forgiving arms of Our Lord, Nick.
