“ To say the least “Ms. Norma”, as I knew her, was beautiful! I knew her when her hair was perfectly coifed, her outfits were “Barbie-like” and her eyes were piercing. She always wore high heels and truly looked like a movie star. When she traveled, she would bring me back a little piece of jewelry. I can still hear she and my Mother laughing at the kitchen table ( I’m pretty certain it was an irreverent laugh). This is how a 9 year-old remembers Ms. Norma. May she rest in peace.
