“ I will never forget when Joe bought that Montana property - the excitement in his voice as he showed me its location - a dot on the map, and the pictures they sent him of the property. Then he got that old apache camper to tow out there. Jen and I didnt have time to travel cross country, but we flew to Denver and drove up from there. Id never been out west before, so that was a trip of a lifetime for me. I hope he knew how much I appreciated being invited. We had so much fun digging fossils, finding dinosaur p@@p (Im still laughing), mining for something (rocks), seeing the sights, and losing Dan and Scott at Devils Tower (Linda!). Weve had so many trips since then to Ocean City and beyond, and each one is packed with memories like that. I guess the reason we travel with the kids so much now is because Joe showed me how its done. Nothing ever stopped him from making it happen for all of us. Ill never forget that. Ever. Thank you.

“ And the doors are open now as the bells are ringing out, 'Cause the man of the hour has taken his final bow, As the curtain comes down I feel that this is just goodbye for now. Love and miss you so much Dad, Jen
