“ My Dad wad diagnosed with stage 4 pancreatic cancer 6 months ago. His cancer was terminal but my dad wanted to stay alive as long as he could for his family. My dad never complain. He was like one of those punching bags that you would hit and it would bounce right back up. My dad passed away very quietly with my mom by his side. Yes its going to be hard for all of us but we all have so many awesome memories. I miss you dad. Like I told you before you passed \"I will see you at every sunrise and every sunset\". I love you Daddio.
