“ It says to share a memory shew how much time you got? Bobby was my big brother my first friend, my protector, my tormentor lol. He even walked me down the isle when I got married because my dad was already no longer with us. He was practically an extra parent when we were younger then he moved out and started having babies and I still was always with him helping watch the kids staying with them for summers at a time. He was a lot older than me and I think people think that because of that we weren't that close but we were. Don't get me wrong we had downs as well as ups but what family doesn't. I could always count on him to make me laugh. He always checked on me and always made sure we kept in touch even when I was horrible with doing it. He was my brother my family. People would say oh hes your half brother because he has a different dad but even tho I knew that I didn't understand half like no he's my brother and he's a great guy! We all took the wrong path in life but no matter what we always told each other I love you. I don't know how I'm supposed to live life without my big brother in it. I love you Bobby and I will miss your jokes your goofy laugh, your amazing ability to connect with every child in your life. I will miss your daily texts. I can't believe this. It wasn't supposed to be this way. Rest easy bro, keep looking over all of us, love and miss you so much, till we meet again!
