“ I forgot how much Ronan liked to build cars, and rockets as a child until I saw these pictures. I only wish I had bought him somethings to work on as an adult. I think he would have enjoyed showing his little nephews how to construct a car or rocket maybe a plane. He is pictured with his friend Keith Jones.

“ Here is another picture of Ronan and the plane. We had that plane for a long time. I remember the plane crashed one day. I had forgotten what happened. Ronan told me last summer that a man asked Dad if he could fly the plane, and Dad let him. The man crashed the plane. Oh how we cried. Dad never built another plane again. He said it had gotten to be expensive to build them. I always wished we had tried to buy another plane for him.
