

Salvatore Charles Valenzia Jr

July 4, 1956 - December 24, 2025

Salvatore (Sam) Charles Valenzia, Jr., born July 4, 1956, formerly of Hampstead and Millersville, Maryland died December 24, at Compass Hospice in Centreville, MD.

Sam loved to hunt and enjoyed spending most of his time outdoors. He enjoyed being on a tractor and loved watching his grandson Gage race motocross. His happiest days were spent with his wife at a waterfront restaurant with an ice cold beer in his hand. Sam worked most of his life in the family business of Valenzia & Sons.

Sam leaves behind his beloved wife of over 20 years, Kim. He is survived by his loving stepdaughters, Amanda (Wayne) Floyd and Sarah (Justin) Hartlove, who will carry his memory in their hearts. Sam was the best Pop Pop to his grandchildren Gage, Ella, and newborn twins Aurora Sam and Emmy Belle. He is also survived by his siblings Nancy, Leonard, Pat, Teresa, and Craig, along with many nieces and nephews.

He is preceded in death by his infant son Scott - whose life was brief but impact was immense, his parents Salvatore and Virginia, and his brother Lawrence.

At Sam's request, there will not be a memorial service. Donations in Sam's memory can be made to St. Jude Children's Research Hospital.
