Sam enjoyed fishing, watching the Orioles, Getaways with his wife, tinkering on cars and hanging out at home with the family and his pups. Keno his furrup was his best senior buddy. We called Sam Macgyver as he could fix, repair or build pretty much anything. If you had a chance to know Sam, you'd probably call him a friend.

Sam was an avid car enthusiast, with the 1956 Chevy being one of his favorites. He had a career as a skilled autobody technician for over 60 years.

A private celebration of Sam's life will be held at a later date.
