

Sandra Faye Scanlon

June 5, 1949 - June 1, 2024

Sandra Faye Scanlon, nee Lockard, passed away peacefully at Hospice of the Chesapeake on June 1 after a prolonged battle with cancer. She was born June 5, 1949, in Roanoke, Virginia, to Charles and Flo Lockard. She married the love of her life, Robert J. Scanlon on April 9, 1966, and raised four wonderful sons, Robert (Stephanie), Timothy (Susan), and was preceded in death by Charles, and Richard (Teresa). Though small in stature, this devoted wife and mother fearfully wielded belts, switches, and Louisville Sluggers with sniper-like accuracy, molding her boys into wonderful, honest men who blessed her abundantly with beloved grandchildren Steven, Kirsten, Caitlin, Madaline, Caileigh, and Lily. In addition to her husband, sons Robert and Timothy, and her grandchildren, Sandi is also survived by her brother, Ronald, several sisters-in-law, a great grandson, numerous cousins, nieces, nephews, and friends she considered family.

Affectionately and appropriately known as “Taz” by those blessed to call her family or friend, Sandi will be fondly remembered for her zest for life, her love of karaoke, and her prowess in the kitchen. Her family will miss her favorite dishes including beer bread, green chile pie, or squash casserole, as no one can fix those the way Sandi did, nor can anyone sing “Crazy” with fervor and talent the way Sandi did. When not singing or cooking, she could be found curled up on the couch with one of her grandchildren watching Chicago Fire, the Rookie, or Jerry Springer with loyal canine Charlie by her side. Her family and friends will keep her memory and spirit alive, thinking of her and how she blessed their lives every time they enjoy those dishes, hear that song, or do any of the myriad things Sandi enjoyed.
