“ Aileen was my dad, Robert Gray, cousin. When he was dying he and Aileen did a lot of emailing. I stepped in after dad died. We became instant friends. She counselled me on some things going on in my life and we shared some stories of our family history. She became an instant friend and companion by email. I always hoped I would be able to meet her. I didn't plan well enough. I hope you are with my dad and your family and having such a great time wherever you are. I love you Aileen
