“ I met Buddy in 1994. I was dating his brother John, whom I married later that year. Buddy had it all: A very nice family with two beautiful children, a beautiful home, and a great career. My husband John told me how Buddy was \"great at everything he did\" and that was the truth. Whether it was sports or academics, he shined.\nBuddy was an enigma and rarely let his guard down. What with the way of the world, and it's jealousies, that's understandable. I myself have been much the same many times during my life.\nIn later years, life wasn't so kind to Buddy. He suffered through some major setbacks and his health deteriorated. His death on July 10, 2015 upset me greatly. I think of him often and I hope he's looking in on us from time to time. I take some comfort knowing that he is part of the universe. I sure hope there's a form of golf for him there! Rest easy my friend. ❤️
