

William James Simmons, Jr.

October 18, 1947 - September 1, 2024

We honor the life and memory of William J. Simmons Jr., a man who was deeply loved and will be profoundly missed. William passed away Sunday morning after a long battle with illness.

William was a veteran of the United States Navy, a testament to his courage and dedication. He served his country with pride, and that same sense of duty and commitment carried over into every aspect of his life.

He was preceded in death by his mother, father, two brothers, and two sisters. While we mourn his passing, we take comfort in knowing he is reunited with his loved ones who went before him.

William leaves behind his devoted wife, who stood by his side through every challenge and cherished every moment they shared. He also leaves behind two children, Stacy Perseghin and Raymond Simmons, who were the pride and joy of his life.

His legacy lives on through his 3 granddaughters and 4 great-grandsons, each of whom will carry a piece of him in their hearts.

William was a man of great strength, kindness, and love. He was a devoted husband, a loving father, and a proud grandfather. His family meant everything to him, and they, in turn, loved him dearly.

As we say goodbye to William today, let us remember the love he shared, the sacrifices he made, and the many lives he touched. His memory will live on in all of us, and though he is no longer with us, his spirit will continue to guide and inspire us.

We will miss him very, very much. Rest in peace, William J. Simmons Jr. Your love and legacy will never be forgotten.
