June 4, 1942 - April 13, 2023

Yvonne (Baby Sis, Feem) Feemster passed away peacefully at her home in Hanover MD on April 13, 2023. Yvonne was a loving wife and mother. She was born June 4, 1942, in Washington DC, to Levet Brown Sr. (deceased) and Olena Gilchrist Brown Rivera (deceased). She leaves behind her husband for 63 years Herbert Feemster, four children Herbert (Sandy) Feemster, Yvonne (Tonda) Feemster Anderson, Christopher A. Feemster and Angel N. Feemster, five grandchildren DaRon Porter, Christopher Porter, Nicholas Feemster, Santia Feemster and Randolph Thompson, 1 great grandchild Ava Porter and her eldest brother Levet Brown Jr. Yvonne will join her three deceased siblings Melvin Brown, Barbara Jean Brown Fox and McDuffie Brown.

Yvonne had an electrifying personality, and a smile that could light up the world. She captured the hearts of many and gave herself to many. She was UNIQUE in every way and approached life on her terms. Her unwavering faith and belief in OUR ALMIGHTY GOD and the Lord Jesus Christ provided her with an abundance of strength and appreciation of LIFE. She loved deeply and fought like a warrior. She was smart, witty, a teacher, fun to be around and a no-nonsense Lady. She always said what she meant and meant what she said.

May GOD and the Angels usher and cradle Yvonne eternally with love peace and joy. No more struggle. No more pain. She has gone home to be with GOD and her loved ones in heaven.

Rest in peace Momma. You will be forever remembered as the ROCK for the Feemster Family.

“ Hey Momma! Today June 4, 2023 is your birthday. This is so surreal that we haven't planned a birthday celebration for you. It's a sunny beautiful day and I know you would have been trying to figure out how you could start getting your summer tan. Beautifully Bronze! I can see your smile as I write this in memory of you. You loved going to restaurants and taking an hour to read EVERYTHING on the menu and having lots of questions for the server. Then it would take you at least 1 hour to eat some of your food and pack the rest...LOL! Nobody is rushing you now. I want you to know that Sandy, Me, Chris and Angel are taking care of Daddy. But you should also know that nobody can take care of him the way you did. Your yard is as pretty as it's always been. The cala lilies are beginning to bloom. Angel has designed her yard in honor of you. So...if you are looking down on us, please know that you continue to live in all of us. You did good! Happy 81st Birthday! I love and miss you so much -- Big Stockings 1st born daughter -- Tonda

“ Hello Mom. Today's your birthday and I miss you. I think of you many, many times a day. I wear something of yours just about every day...I miss you. Every time I garden now I wear your hat with the thought that that will make my garden as beautiful as yours. As you know, my garden is now multicolored just like yours! BTW, your garden is still beautiful; Dad is making sure of that! I know you're up there trying to run things...that's just you. I also know that you're garden is beautiful up there too! I miss you. Know that I'm grateful for all the wisdom, love, pooh comments, hugs, knowledge, common sense and laughter you've given me all my life. I love and honor you! HAPPY HEAVENLY BIRTHDAY MOMMAWAMMA! BTW, I know you're watching over me and all of us. Thanks for keeping us safe...as usual:-)!! I love you!

“ Hey Momma! There's not a day that goes by that I don't think about you. It feels as though you are still here on earth and I need to pick up the phone to call you. I find my self mentioning you or something you said every day. Today is the first Mother's Day that I have not seen you, kissed you, hugged you and of course lets not forget taking you out to eat and having all of us around you. I love you momma. If I let my mind wander, I would be crying more than I know you would want me to cry. So I'm trying to keep busy and I try to think of how funny you were. Happy Mother's Day and tell the angels to keep you close. Tonda

“ I met Yvonne approx. 35 + years ago, as we were/are part of an 'ole skool' crew - 'The Fun Bunch'!! \nDon't have to explain, cause her family 'Already Knows'!! 🤪🤪\nHer familiar antics, whether her dramatic dancing 🤩, excellent\n swimming andcooking skills, or throwing down on the bid whist table, etc., she did YVONNE!! 💖🥰\n\nI/we will always remember her candidness, her devilish sense of humor, and the profound wisdom she shared - whether you liked it or not! 🤪 Her animated on-time facial expressions were classics. 🤪\n\nI was fortunate to be one of her clients that came to her home [post LaFemme], for hair care. I got a press n' curl like no other. She was a 'specialist' at her craft, as the head massages, heat treatments, etc., were simply awesome! My hair had a 'lot of body' 🥰 I so enjoyed our conversations, as she 'always said what she meant', no matter who. Never did we part w/o love and respect for one another. 💖\n\nShe was both dearly loved and respected, and we All [Fun Bunch] were always happy to see her, [and Herb of course, when he could]. I/we Love them both, and the Feemster family. House-parties at their spot's were Awesome!! 🤪🤪🤪\n\nYou guys relish in the multitude of special memories of Yvonne, and continue to take care of Dad and one another. She would want that, as she is OK. And I know you know this. 🤪 She's likely cooking up some Seafood Jumbalaya, or something great, for the 'cool Angels in Heaven, as we speak. 🙏🙏🙏\n\nLove & Blessings, Denise aka Ne'C 💖📧

“ We love you Maga. I remember one Christmas you gave gifted me a box of balled up news paper and I was so upset at first. Then you told me to open one of the pieces of newspaper and ther was a 5 dollar bill in it. So naturally I tear through the rest of them and some had money and some didn't. When I finally got through it all you looked at me and said \"You have to work for everything you get in this life.\" That has stuck with me my whole life and I thank you for delivering that message early in my life. “ Hey Maga,\n\nI just always remember your tough love and always saying EXACTLY what was on your mind. You never held any punches, no matter what. Always told it like it is, and always true to yourself and what you stood for...\n\nMost recently I remember us all in your room a couple summers back, catching up. You asked (as you always would when we would talk) if I had a girlfriend or someone I was interested in, and like I always, I would say “Nah maga, not yet”.... But this time you had a follow up question! Your next question was “Well...are you gay or what?” It wasn’t funny to me at the time, but looking back on that whole conversation, it made me chuckle a bit, because that was just you being unapologetically “YOU” and I loved you for it. That part of me comes from you. \n\nI love you, and will miss you always.\n\nLove,\n\nDaRon

“ Aunt Babysis gave me some advice that changed my life. When I was young I use to sleep with the lights on. She noticed and asked me why, and I told her I was scared. She told me I could hide better in the dark and for me to think about it. She never ask me what I was scared of. So I figured she knew about the bogeyman too. Until this day I sleep with all the lights off and some extra items under my mattress. The best advice ever.

“ JACKIE BROWN\n\nYvonne or Babysis as we called her was a true original. She will forever be remembered for her wit and sense of humor. Babysis was always honest and upfront in her conversation. Yvonne was the life of any gathering. Her Uncle Whit and Aunt Martha were her contemporaries and whenever she came south or they visited up north; their house was always on the stop by list. Our family reunions will not be the same. She was always interested in knowing who are the Brown family members. May you find comfort in the many wonderful memories you share of time spent with Babysis as we will. Love Whit, Martha, Jackie, Michelle and Theresa Brown

“ Yvonne and I shared the same birthday although she had me by 7 years. I remember being hired in 1976 by Peaches & Herb’s Manager, Paul Cohen, to take early promo photos of Herb and Linda Greene. I was always impressed by the work ethic of Yvonne and Herb. Even though the duo shot to the top of the charts in 1979, Yvonne still ran her beauty shop business in the Landover Road shopping center. She always stood off to the side and let Herb shine with every edition of “Peaches”. I remember photographing Yvonne and Herb’s 59th wedding anniversary and how excited Yvonne was as she floated around the Newton White Mansion showing me the different memorabilia they collected over the years. The last time I saw her and Herb was at a Peaches & Herb performance at Harmony Hall in Ft. Washington, MD some years ago. I cherish that memory and all of my memories of Yvonne over the years. May GOD embrace her spirit and give the family a burning joy in their hearts.
